GUEST ARTISTS AT SLAVONIC FESTIVAL

Arrangements have been completed to have the string orchestras of the Association of United Ukrainian Canadians of Lethbridge and Calgary appear on the programme of the Slavonic Festival, which will be held at Blairmore on August 9th and 10th. The two orchestras numbering about 35 youthful musicians will play Ukrainian Folk and Classical music and will also accompany the festival choir in their presentation of Ukrainian, Slovak, Polish and Russian songs.

The Calgary string orchestra won wide acclaim for their presentation of some splendid concert programs over station CFGN, while the Lethbridge orchestra has been very popular with the music lovers of Lethbridge and district.

Anita Skulski and Olga Smith, soprano soloists and members of the Calgary orchestra, will appear on the festival programme in a number of Slavonic song selections.

The above guest artists will add greatly to the already splendid programme which the festival committee has prepared. The audience will be assured of seeing a concert programme of a greater variety and on a larger scale than has ever been attempted in the Crow's Nest Pass.

40 ALBERTANS KILLED IN MOTOR ACCIDENTS

Alberta had 40 fatalities in motor accidents in 1946, which was less than any other western province, according to figures compiled by Ottawa.

Nevertheless, officials of the Alberta Motor Association are continuing to stress the need for greater safety on the highways in order to reduce the accident toll this year.

It is realized that with the motor traffic volume continuing to mount, the risk of a greater number of accidents is proportionately increased. But this can be reduced to a minimum by the exercising of still greater driving care.

Safety weeks are being organized or have been carried out in different parts of the province, while police officers are giving their full co-operation. Educational campaigns contribute in large measure to safety education, but this must be backed up by the wholehearted co-operation of all to ensure the best possible results.

The A. M. A. is conducting its year-round safety campaign, playing a small part in adding to lessen the number of motor accidents in the province.

The first part of the night, think of your own faults; the latter part, think of the faults of others.—Chinese Proverb.

STEWART-MURRAY

In the Old MacDougall Church in Edmonton, on July 26th, at 8 p.m., Elizabeth Jean (Beth), younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Murray Blairmore, exchanged marriage vows with Cst. G. Roland Stewart only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stewart, Sydney Mines, N.S.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Harrison Vile, cousin of the bride and now principle of Alberta College, Edmonton.

The bride was attired in a light blue wool suit with navy accessories complemented by a corsage of roses and heather. She was attended by the Misses Ettie Mae Rush and Mae Murray, while the groom was supported by Cst. Frank Ward RCMP.

After a short honeymoon in Edmonton the happy couple will go by plane to Ft. Resolution where the groom is on RCMP Staff at that point.

SLIDE SURVIVOR, A. MACPHAIL DIES

One of the few survivors of the historic Frank Slide in 1903, Alexander MacPhail, 72, of 108 7th Ave. NW, died Tuesday in a Calgary hospital. A stationary engineer, he had retired only a week ago.

Born in Caledonia, NS, Mr. MacPhail went to Fernie, BC in 1898 and in 1901 moved to Frank.

In the early morning of April 29, 1903, he was one of 17 men on night shift within the shafts of the coal mine. At 4:10 a.m. a huge wedge of limestone, 1,300 feet high, 4,000 feet wide and 600 ft. thick, broke away from the side of Turtle Mountain and swept into the valley killing 86 persons and trapping the miners.

The miners did not know they had been trapped until they started to leave at the end of their shift, and found this exit plugged. Instead of awaiting rescue they tunneled their way upwards and emerged 13 hours later while rescue crews were still frantically digging to clear the debris from the entrance to the mine.

Mr. MacPhail later moved to Calgary, and had been a stationary engineer for Tupper's Ltd. for 18 years. He retired July 21.

Surviving are two sisters, Annie and Catherine, both of Calgary and a brother, Archie, of Saskatoon.

Services are being held in Jacques' chapel today a 2:45 p.m. and interment will follow in Burnside cemetery.

Mrs. Evan Morgan is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. J. Evans, Todd Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Steeves, daughter Mary Clare and Peggy MacPherson returned Monday from a motor holiday trip to the Pacific coast.

DEDICATION OF CAIRNS IN WATERTON-GLACIER INTERNATIONAL PEACE PARK

Two cairns, which have been erected near the international boundary between Waterton-Lakes National Park in Alberta and Glacier National Park in Montana, will be unveiled at a dedication ceremony at Waterton Park tonight on Saturday, August 2, according to a statement issued by Hon. J. A. Glen, minister of mines and resources, Ottawa. The cairns, one on the Canadian side and the other on the United States side of the boundary, are on the Chief Mountain Highway linking the two parks.

The erection of these cairns is the result of thoughtful suggestions and efficient efforts by Rotary International. It was Rotary International that originally sponsored the action which resulted in legislation being passed in 1923 by the Parliament of Canada and the United States Congress establishing the Waterton-Glacier International Peace Park. The erection of these cairns is a further step in commemorating the understanding and good will which have so long prevailed between the peoples and the governments of the two great democracies. For more than 100 years unbroken peace has existed along the unfortified boundary lines of over 3,000 miles between Canada and the United States, furnishing to the world an unequalled example of international amity.

Besides uniting two parks, the establishment of the Waterton-Glacier International Peace Park links the national park systems of Canada and the United States—areas which are playing an increasingly important part in the lives of the peoples of this continent. The United States park system is, of course, the older, having had its inception around a camp fire in the wilds of Wyoming back in 1870. The idea was first translated into action two years later with the establishment of Yellowstone National Park. Canada followed the example of her neighbor to the south in 1895 when the first national park was established around the hot mineral springs at Banff, Alberta. Since then the national park system of Canada has grown to 25 separate units comprising a total area of 29,560 square miles. This chain of national playgrounds and places of historic interest extends from the Atlantic coast in the east, to Stikine mountains in the west, and is represented in every province.

Not only are the national parks important from the point of view of health and recreation for Canadians, but they are also major tourist magnets. Last year they were hosts to nearly a million visitors, and there are indications that this figure will be exceeded during the present year.

Those taking part in the dedication ceremony on August 2, will include Senator W. A. Buchanan, representing the Government of Canada; Ernest T. Eaton, Governor of Montana; Hon. J. C. Bowen, Lieutenant Governor of Alberta; Venerable Archbishop H. H. Middleton, Chairman of the Waterton-Glacier International Peace Park Committee; Tom J. Davis, Past President International; L. C. Merriam, Regional Director of the United States National Park Service; J. W. Emmert, Superintendent of Glacier National Park; and H. A. DeVoe, J. A. Hutchison, J. A. Wood, the Superintendents of Waterton Lakes, Banff and Jasper National Parks in Alberta.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. McDougall and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Old returned over the week end from a holiday at Vancouver, making the trip by car. While in the city Joe and Dick attended the Elks' Grand Lodge session, Dick being elected a grand trustee.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Morrison who have resided here for some forty odd years are moving to Calgary this week.

A Foot Hills Mission picnic sponsored by Rev. Cyril Clarke was held near the South Fork River bridge on Sunday afternoon when Livingstone, Lundbreck, Cowley and Pincher Creek of which points he is pastor, joined together when swimming, foot races, three-legged races, for the children and foot races for the women were in order, followed by an appetizing dinner served from tables where around 150 sat down to do justice to tasty viands with plenty of ice cream and lemonade to satisfy the most hearty.

Miss R. Thiesen and Miss I. Fink, of Western Children's Missions at Coaldale, when at terming of a 2 week daily instructions in Vacation Bible School held in the village school house here, gave a social evening, Friday, July 25, when a large crowd gathered to hear the program in demonstrative form by the children under the supervision of the very capable teachers. It is remarkable what the children had accomplished in both singing and bible study in so short a time. Special vocal selections were rendered by Miss Thiesen and Miss Fink in a duet and by Miss R.

REGISTER NOW

AS A BLOOD DONOR

If you were suddenly faced with the situation where you could save someone's life if you gave your blood, what would you do? In reality the situation faces you this minute, for somewhere in Canada there is someone dying for lack of the blood—blood which you can give painlessly and without discomfort to yourself.

It may be a little child broken and crushed as it played on the streets, it may be a young mother whose life is in jeopardy after child birth, or a workman in a plant accident. It may be your neighbor at death's door—or a member of your family—but it is a fellow Canadian! To-morrow, it may be you!

The Canadian Red Cross has set up in Alberta, a new peace-time Blood Transfusion Service. Mobile Units will move out from central clinics. They will visit this community. These clinics and mobile units will to the sole source of life-giving blood to the Alberta hospitals—and the hospitals will in turn give this blood to whoever needs it entirely free of charge.

To carry out this great humanitarian work the Red Cross needs your help. It needs you as a voluntary blood donor. If you have not yet registered, contact Mrs. J. R. Smith, Blairmore Pharmacy or leave your name with the stewards at the Canadian Legion. Remember, it is planned to have the clinic visit Blairmore on a Saturday so miners can register and attend on their day off work.

PLAN TO ORGANIZE

NEW SCHOOL PATROLS

An increased number of school safety patrols will be organized at the opening of the fall term in September, according to officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

Several inquiries already have been received from towns interested in the formation of these patrols at the schools. No doubt those now functioning have had the effect of saving many school children from serious injuries in accidents at intersections.

Both Pamaka and Camrose had school patrols represented at the recent banquet which the Edmonton branch of the A. M. A. gave 800 boy and girl patrons. Other towns are known to have organized patrols or are planning to do so.

Wearing a sash provided by the motor association, the patrol sees that children are enabled to make a safe crossing of intersections near the school when going to or from school. The pupils are encouraged to be on the watch for motor cars and to cross when it is safe to do so, escorted by the patrol.

Motorists also have shown that they will give full co-operation to these school patrols in carrying out their duties.

Pankratz, Miss M. Vath, Miss R. Duck and Miss L. Fink of Coaldale as a quartet.

A well attended farewell party was held in the Masonic hall Friday night July 25, for Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Morrison on their leave-taking to make their future home in Calgary. After a tasty luncheon served from tables decorated with bouquets of garden flowers, the honor guests were presented with a table lamp from the Town Council and a radio from the community. Mr. Morrison came to Cowley from Nova Scotia in the spring of 1901 and Mrs. Morrison (nee Anna Fulton) came a few years later also from Nova Scotia. Following their marriage in 1905 they have resided here ever since where they raised their family of six children to man and womanhood. Mr. and Mrs. Morrison took a keen interest in community affairs and they will be missed from our midst.

A Benefit To Agriculture

THE WORK OF THE United Nations Organization is overshadowed a great deal of the time by spectacular news from all over the world, but although it does not always occupy public attention it is interesting to know that work is going steadily forward to accomplish the purposes laid down when the organization was formed. Of particular interest to the people here is the activity of the Food and Agriculture Organization since much of its work is connected with the improvement of methods of farming, the more efficient distribution of agricultural products and other related matters. Of wide interest to people in the West was the recent appointment of Dr. L. E. Kirk, dean of agriculture at the University of Saskatchewan, as head of the plant industry branch of the agricultural division of the F.A.O.

Hopes To Raise Living Levels

The main objective of the Food and Agriculture Organization is to raise the standard of living in countries where the population lives for the most part at starvation level, and to help them to improve and increase their food production. One of the problems to be dealt with under Dr. Kirk's direction will be concerned with the preservation and storage of food. It is estimated that over one-half of the food which is put on the market is lost because of poor storage facilities. If this loss could be overcome it would be a big factor in increasing the world food supply. Dr. Kirk will also deal with problems of pests and insect plagues, such as grass hoppers, which may attack crops to the extent of seriously affecting the production of important foods.

Will Attempt Pest Control

Another important branch of Dr. Kirk's work will be concerned with the creation of a central source which will give out information concerning valuable genetic stocks of animals and plants throughout the world. Means will also be sought of ensuring that such stock will be preserved and be always available to farmers of any country associated in the U.N.O. In carrying out such work Dr. Kirk will be performing a valuable service to agriculture throughout the world, and it is gratifying to know that an official of one of our Western Canadian universities was selected for this important position.

How To Remove FRUIT STAINS

Summer fruits bring enjoyment but they also bring worries if we have the misfortune of getting their juices on our clothes—and most of us do at some time or other.

However it is comforting to know that most fruit stains may be removed when they are fresh by pouring boiling water over them. However there are exceptions to this, as to most rules.

The exceptions are fresh peach, pear, cherry or plum stains which contain enough tannin to be darkened and set by heat. On stains made by these fruits use cool water glycerine or soapless shampoo. (Never use soap because it sets the stain.) First, sponge the stain with cool water. Then work a little glycerine or soapless shampoo into the stain rubbing lightly between the hands. Let stand several hours, then apply a few drops of vinegar and allow to remain a minute or two before rinsing thoroughly with water.

This same method is recommended for fruit stains on wool or silk. On these fabrics, boiling water should never be used, because it may injure the fabric.

Cool water and glycerine are also recommended for stains made by tomato juice and catsup.

British Total Army Strength At 108,000

LONDON—Britain's regular army has increased by 9,000 men since last December, John Freeman, financial secretary to the War Office, told the House of Commons.

Voluntary recruitment had been at a rate of about 3,600 in April and 3,400 in May. Total strength now is 108,000, he said.

CASHIER REFUSED TO BELIEVE BANDIT

SANTA MONICA, Cal.—"This is a holiday," said a gruff voice outside the movie ticket window. "Are you kidding?" laughed Wanda June Phillips, the cashier in front of the movie ticket window. "Move on, you're holding up the line."

The would-be bandit fled, but the next man in line pursued, collared him and called the police.

There are over 250,000 species of insects known today.

The prodigal son had returned. "Father," he inquired, "are you going to kill the fatted calf?" "No," answered the old man, looking the youth over carefully. "No, I'll let you live. But I'll put you to work and train a lot of that fat off."

The Danger Of Lightning

Golfing, Swimming and Seeking Shelter Under Trees During Storms Should Be Avoided

A golf caddy was recently killed by lightning because his group of enthusiasts insisted on playing during a thunderstorm. This is an example of the silly things people do which add to the death toll from lightning.

Nine out of 10 fatalities from lightning occur in rural areas, according to a survey of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. City dwellers are relatively safe, partly because the steel structures of tall buildings act as lightning conductors.

People in the country are more likely to be caught some distance from a safe shelter and are more likely to be targets for the electrical discharge, particularly if they are on a broad field. Safest place in rural areas during a storm is a building well equipped with lightning rods.

The metal bodies of automobiles protect the occupants, even if the car is struck by lightning. Many city people spend the summer in the country, which is the worst season for storm victims, and consequently should take the precautions which rural residents have to keep in mind all year round.

Many lives are lost because of dangerous actions of persons caught in thunderstorms. Trees, particularly isolated ones, because of their height, are more likely to be struck than persons. That is why a good many are killed or badly injured when they seek shelter under a lone tree.

The practice of taking refuge in small sheds, especially in exposed areas, is dangerous. These structures are a more likely target than individuals out in the open. Ironically enough a number of those killed were standing under trees or sheds.

Other victims tempted fate in a variety of ways. Some, caught in storms while engaged in water sports, continued to swim or to row in small boats. People in small boats are conspicuous targets. Swimmers are in danger not only from being struck directly, but also from being electrocuted by a charge carried by the water from a striking some distance away—Ottawa Citizen.

New Canadian-Invented Radar Device Best In World

OTTAWA—Canada's national research council has developed a radar distance-reading meter which "very convincingly outperformed" foreign devices in open competition, it was disclosed in the NRC report tabled in the Commons.

The mechanism allows an aircraft or marine pilot to read off his distance in miles from a pre-determined ground point. Previously, radar operators had to compute their distance from various information given by the radar equipment. The new meter gives the mileage directly.

May Pay Back Compulsory Savings By 1949

OTTAWA.—Canadian taxpayers who have been looking forward to getting back from the Government $261,000,000 worth of wartime "compulsory savings", may get their money sooner than they expected—in two years instead of three.

As it stands, the Government owes the following amounts: $261,000,000 to personal income taxpayers.

$259,196,000 to excess profits taxpayers.

Hon. Douglas Abbott, Minister of Finance, during discussion of his departmental estimates in the House of Commons, said he would make no promises, but he could see advantages in paying back all that was owed in two payments instead of three, as was originally provided for. This would mean that the debt would be paid by 1949 instead of 1950.

The Government, he said, would consider this idea.

For personal income taxpayers, the money they have owing to them ranges from less than one dollar to several hundred dollars, and the present plan is that the first instalment, amounting to $58,000,000 will be paid back by cheque before March 31, 1948.

The second payment, amounting to $203,000,000, is due before March 31, 1949. The third payment of $100,000,000 must be paid before March 31, 1950.

These three payments will be for "compulsory savings" chargeable to 1942, 1943, and 1944, which was the last year that this enforced savings system was in effect.

One of the main administrative problems, Mr. Abbott said, was that in the first planned repayment alone there were some 15,000 cheques for amounts of less than one dollar.

Health LEAGUE OF CANADA presents TOPICS OF VITAL INTEREST

UNDULANT FEVER SAID THREAT TO HEALTH OF U.S.

Brucellosis, more commonly known as undulant fever or Malta fever, is a source of potential danger to the United States national health, it was stated in an editorial in the Journal of the American Medical Association recently. This infection is harbored by goats, cows and hogs, and humans contract it by drinking raw (unpasteurized) milk or handling infectious material.

The editorial estimated that "the total number of cases reported in the United States has averaged about 4,000 yearly for the past several years," but added that as only the relatively severe acute illnesses are diagnosed and reported, it is probable that actually 40,000 to 100,000 infections occur annually. It was pointed out that chronic infections are rarely diagnosed.

Applying this ratio to Canada, it would appear that probably 19,000 to 50,000 infections occur annually in the Dominion. Figures for the years 1940 to 1945, inclusive, reveal a total of 1,124 cases reported for an average annual rate of 187 cases. However, in 1940 there were only 142 cases while in 1945 there were 264.

From this it would appear that, comparatively, undulant fever in Canada is not the public health problem it is in the United States. However, the disease and its crippling and killing possibilities are with us—and will be with us as long as it appears difficult to prevent, diagnose and apply treatment.

The Journal editorial concludes that "development of still better methods in diagnosis, treatment and prevention in animals and men, depends upon an increasing brucellosis-mindedness" and continued investigation. The disease continues to be a major public health problem. Pasteurization of all dairy products must remain the greatest bulwark against human infection until methods of control can be perfected.

Thus it can be seen that as far as dairy products are concerned, pasteurization is the only sure guard against undulant fever. Likewise, pasteurization is a sure guard against other milk-borne diseases such as bovine tuberculosis, typhoid fever, septic sore throat, paratyphoid and dysentery.

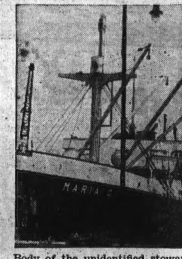

Incidentally, the Journal editorial remarks that the annual food loss in milk, butter, beef, veal and pork from brucellosis reaches a staggering total in calories of the kind most needed by an underfed world.

ONLY TEN IN CANADA
It is estimated that in the world today there are 3,000,000 lepers. Of these, only 10 are known to live in Canada. Of these 10, the Dominion keeps three in British Columbia—at a cost of $11,000 this year—and seven in New Brunswick, where there is a century-old leper station.

Investigate Death Of Stowaway

Charged by the captain of the Maria G. with aiding a stowaway, later found dead, Bernard Mountain of Saint John, N.B., is confined to his bunk by injury suffered at sea. The ship sailed from Saint John some months ago and now is in Montreal harbor after a voyage to China, Honolulu and India. Quebec provincial police boarded her to investigate the suspected murder.

Body of the unidentified stowaway was found on the Maria G. last April and was buried at sea, off India. The dead man was found in a utility locker with tin of food and biscuits nearby.

GENERAL WOOD, WORLD'S GREATEST STOREKEEPER, IS SURE OF PRICES DROPPING

WASHINGTON.—Into the senate leave it to the people to bring down prices; the customers simply don't buy when costs are too high. "Yes, because they're run out of money," snapped Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyo.

"Not at all," replied Gen. Wood, crossing his knees and displaying his scuffed, $4.95 Sears, Roebuck shoes. "This thing all started last fall when rich women refused to pay $5,000 for fur coats."

He said they'd only pay $2,000. Prices of all costs fell, cloth ones included. Then the bargain sale spread to dresses, jewellery and high grade cosmetics.

"And soon there wasn't any demand for costume jewellery at all," he said. "And that's the way it goes."

Fingering the collar of his $2.95 Sears, Roebuck shirt Gen. Wood said, textiles also were too high and that eventually the price would break. Anyhow, he said, he wasn't much worried about the future. "The business prophets have been wrong on every count since the end of the war and he, ignores them."

The congressmen said that still seemed too high; the general still was not embarrassed.

"Of course it is," he said, "and in about three months more that same radio will sell for $15."

He said he believed congress could

Almost 3,500 languages and dialects are spoken in the world. There are 100 separate modes of speech in Africa, 130 in India, 87 in the Philippine Islands, 46 in Europe, and, as is frequently stated, "42 languages are heard in the streets of Jerusalem."

The growth of the English language is remarkable. It is the language of 350,000,000 persons, and a further 8,000,000 are able to use it sufficiently for business purposes.

SUMMER HAS A SWEET TOOTH—There's something about the summertime that brings out the taste for sweets. Perhaps it's because your youngsters at camp like nothing better than to show-off with a box of Mother's cookies sent from home. Or perhaps it's because people like something to nibble on with those cool summer drinks. Whatever the reason, this new and easy-to-make nutbar will answer the need for a different, summertime cookie. They're appealingly called Princess Pats, and will dress your tea-time tray at home, or carry well through the mails to your camper or student away for the summer.

TEA MAY GO UP 15 CENTS
LB. COFFEE A NICKEL

Present prices will be held as long as possible on tea and coffee, reports Canadian Grocer, but when present stocks on hand in Canada are exhausted, importers and wholesalers may have to pass on increases in their costs to the consumer.

There is enough tea on hand at the older prices to last Canadians until late summer, estimates the grocery paper. Unless there are unusually heavy orders of tea in the far East, prices must then go up — some guesses say as much as 15 to 20 cents a pound.

Coffee prospects are better, says Canadian Grocer, with little evident reason for price increases for another four or five months. Then, depending on market prices, it may be forced up five or six cents a pound.

QUEEN MARY RETURNING TO THE NORTH ATLANTIC SERVICE

A weekly United Kingdom express liner service from Southampton to New York will be started at the end of July when the Queen Mary, the world's second largest liner, makes her postwar maiden voyage as a passenger ship. This 81,000-ton liner, which served as a troop carrier during war, is now in the final stages of reconstruction and restoration to luxury peacetime standards. Not only is the entire ship being restored to her former beauty, but many new features are being introduced, such as improved amenities for all three classes of passengers, additional public rooms and increased crew accommodation. Two garden lounges have been added on the promenade deck while another new attraction is an air-conditioned cocktail bar.

THE CANADIAN INDIANS

(Royal Bank of Canada)

What Does The Indian Say?

What does the Indian himself want?

He is torn between two desires: to be modern, and at the same time to retain his memory and love of his country. Let us hear first of old Buffalo Child Long Lance, a Cherokee Indian, who was made an Honorary Chief of the Blood Band of Blackfeet. He passed through school with honors, graduated from Marshall Military Academy, and was appointed West Point by President Wilson. When war broke out, Long Lance went overseas as a private in the Canadian infantry and retired as a captain after three years' service during which he was wounded at Vimy Ridge and Lens. As newspaper reporter, author of several books, and lecturer he became as well known throughout the continent as he had been in his younger days for his racing and boxing. Then he was given the leading part in "The Silent Enemy", a motion picture on the life of the aborigines. And here is how this educated, travelled and sophisticated man showed the actuality of a dual Indian personality: "All I did in that picture was very real. At times I felt plunging within me all the things that had been denied to me, and seemed within me were the Spirits of our people of sixty thousand years ago—simple, true, defiant; assertive of all the loftiness of character of which we once possessed. The other Indians, felt too, and at times when I asked they openly cried."

There is something of calm majesty in the language used by Indians presenting their views to the parliamentary committee:

"We, the Hereditary Chiefs of the St. Regis Reservation, members of the Six Nations Confederacy, and the Band, assembled to a Great Council. . . . 1937 to approach the Dominion Government. . . . The eightieth belt of wampum may only be strings of cheap cotton beads, but to Indians its long white line parallel to the red one symbolizes JUSTICE in peace time just as the red line means PROTECTION in war time for our red brothers who have buried their tomahawk, now rusty."

One Band asks that ignominious and competent Indians should be released from the permit system which hampers their freedom of trading; others want old age pensions; the Cowichan Indians say no objection is taken to taxes on money earned off the reserve by Indians are given the same rights as white men. Spoken for the Six Nations ask for full control of Indian lands and exemption from land taxation, more autonomy, abolition of denominational schools, social services, and more power over the use of their own band funds. In refusing to approve taxation of Indians, the Roads comment pitifully: "The striking of the whole of the Dominion of Canada by the government should be sufficient taxes forever."

"Children Of Our Great White Mother"

If there is something of a lament for the past in what the Indian says today, and a groping aspiration for better days to come, there is behind these gentlemen a deep-rooted loyalty to the Crown. Lying side by side with white comrades in the foxholes of every battle front, the Indian found acceptance on a basis that brave men know. One family of the Cape Crozier Agency, the McLeods, has a magnificent record. The father served in the first war and in the veterans' guard in the recent war; his six sons and one daughter enlisted; two sons were killed and two wounded. The latest message of the Bloods to the parliamentary committee closed with this expression of loyalty: "Long may we remain the children of our great white mother, Her Majesty our late Queen Victoria."

Everyone with sympathy for the Indians and care for Canada's obligations will wish success to the parliamentary committee in its search for an honorable and thorough way of discharging the Dominion's responsibilities to these First Citizens of Canada. It is not enough to save the Indian from extinction. If the Indian Affairs Branch can provide a fulcrum to help the Indian reach a new and more satisfying life, it will be a fine demonstration of practical democracy.

The school crest of St. Paul's shows, against a background of mountains and a tepee, a youthful Indian gazing into the distance. Around the crest is a motto whose origin is lost in the antiquity of western Indians: Mokokit-ki-actakimik: "Be Wise and Persevere". That is the spirit of young Indians today, and a motto fit for all who wish to help the Indians to find a better way of life.

In the newspaper world the day of personal journalism is gone, but recollections of the colorful era still crop up.

In the midst of a bitter rivalry between two small Southern news papers some years ago, one of the editors stole a march on the other by slipping a new high-speed press into his establishment one night under the cover of darkness, and announcing grandly soon thereafter:

"Fellow-citizens, you are invited to come and see our magnificent press next Tuesday. This press, which will print, cut and fold 10,000 copies of an eight-page paper in an hour, will be placed in operation at exactly 3 p.m."

To which the rival journal rejoined with this helpful suggestion:

"Be punctual, fellow-citizens, when you go to see that grand new press Jim Hancock is bragging about. Be there promptly at three. For exactly at 3:04 his entire circulation will have been printed and he can call it a day."

One good way to stay alive: "Don't take curves at fifty-five."

Moderation

WILL SEE US THROUGH

Last year, in one of its several published statements, The House of Seagram said, "Canada's great record of price control was made possible by the wholehearted co-operation of the Canadian people with their Government's anti-inflation methods. This fine record should be maintained . . . by moderating our pleasures, by controlling unessential spending, we continue to serve our Nation and ourselves best."

That statement we repeat today. We need only march steadily ahead . . . with continued emphasis on those habits of moderation, self-control and commonsense which are so happily—and fortunately—characteristics of Canada, and Canadians.

Then this Nation will stand secure on the road to its yet greatest opportunities.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

by

Don Graham

In the eyes of employers, "lack of initiative" is considered the most serious fault a worker can have. It is an insidious and dangerous fault.

For most of us, pride of achievement and desire for bigger earnings provide plenty of drive. But we may suffer from temporary loss of enthusiasm in our work due to illness, personal problems, or emotional upsets.

At such times it is desirable to take all possible measures to prevent these conditions from becoming chronic. The advice of a physician or close friend may help. So may a frank talk with your employer whose attitude will probably be very understanding.

Sometimes a man has little or no interest in his work. This may not be his fault. A change of job or additional responsibilities may be all he needs to make him "spark".

But far too many men are in a rut because they are just plain lazy. To them I can only say: You'll be far happier if you give your job everything you've got!

The life insurance business in Canada has grown to tremendous proportions because it renders a needed service and is efficiently managed. In 1946, approximately $165,000,000 was paid out in life insurance benefits.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

GOOD COMPANY

By GEORGE GRAHAM

"Well, Joe, I'm going on my vacation next week, and I want you to stay on your good behavior while I'm away," said Sergeant Stevens with a good natured grin. He was a large, heavy set, genial man, head of the guards at the County Prison. All of the prisoners liked and respected Sergeant Stevens, for he was lenient and honest with them. He trusted them and treated them well, but was serious and completely conscientious about his job.

"Have a good time, sarge," said Joe Walsh, a trusty with six months time standing between himself and freedom. "What are you going to do with yourself?"

"I think I'll take a motor trip around the state," Sergeant Stevens said. "Like to see some of the boys along, after being copped up here with the rest of you boys all year."

"Sounds like a great idea," Joe said.

"Yeah!" answered the sergeant with a sad smile. "I'm only sorry I can't take you and some of the boys along. You make good company. Oh, well! Next year you should be out. Maybe we'll get together then."

"Sure, Sarge," Joe murmured. "Enjoy yourself."

When the sergeant left himself out of the cell block, Joe sat thinking, ignoring the other prisoners. He had never thought of escaping the prison while Sergeant Stevens was in charge and responsible for the men, but now Joe began to yearn for his freedom.

Three days after the sergeant left on vacation, Joe was assigned to the bean picking crew at the prison farm. That afternoon, while the guards made their rounds lazily in the hot sun, he climbed the fence and cut quickly through the woods. At the first town he passed, some quick thinking and acting rewarded him with a denim shirt, overalls, a threadbare overcoat and a peak cap which had been hanging on the clothes line of one of the housewives.

After a change he looked like one of the farmers or workmen. He breathed deeply of the warm breeze, as he walked down the side streets of the town, feeling free once again. That evening he crawled into an empty coal car on a north-bound freight. As he watched the scenery flow swiftly by the open door, he felt the wind in his face he sang a happy song. In a few days he would be several states away from the County Prison. While humming softly to himself, he fell asleep, lulled by the jolting rhythm of the wheels on the tracks.

"Hey you, hobo. C'mon, wake up." A voice, harsh and hard, grated in Joe's ears. A heavy foot tapping him on the shoulder awakened him more completely. He sat up slowly, blinked and yawned, and saw that the sun was shining brightly in the door of the freight car. The train had stopped on a siding, and outside was a pasture overgrown with weeds.

"What's the matter, Joe, looking trying to collect his senses. He looked up at the large man and noticed the holster gun on his hip. "I'm a railroad detective," the man said. "Get up. I'm going to take you down to the hoosegow. You know your lot: not allowed to ride the freight."

Joe's nerves jumped with nervous jitters, and he fought to keep his teeth from rattling. By now they would have heard of his escape at the local jail.

He pleaded with the detective in his most heart melting voice, begging to be given another chance, swearing he didn't know that he wasn't allowed to ride on the freight trains.

The detective tapped his gun significantly. "I hear that some story."

OLD-FASHIONED JELLY ROLL

(4 eggs)

1/2 cup sifted cake flour

1/2 teaspoon baking powder

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 cup sugar

1/2 cup sifted sugar

1 teaspoon vanilla

1/2 cup jelly (any flavor)

Sift flour, salt, and sugar. Combine baking powder, salt, and eggs in bowl. Place smaller bowl of hot water and beat with rotary egg beater, adding sugar gradually until mixture becomes thick and light-colored. Remove bowl from hot water. Fold in flour and vanilla. Turn into 12x18-inch pan which has been greased, lined with paper to within 1/2 inch of edge, and again greased. Bake in hot oven (400 deg. F.) 15 minutes. Quickly cut off crisp edges of cake. Turn out on cloth covered with powdered sugar; remove paper. Spread with jelly and roll. Wrap in cloth and cool on rack.

CITY AND FARM PEOPLE

Gap In Understanding

"What are you going to do this summer?" a retired farmer friend of ours asked the high school son of a friend of his as he grasped the arm of a fine husky boy of 17.

"Well, I hoped to be a cadet at Jasper, but—nothing doing. The trouble is I'm not 18 so I am trying to get a job in a broker's office."

"Why a broker's office? Why don't you take that good muscle to a farm and make it even better, and at the same time help the farmer to produce food?" our friend asked.

"Well, Mom and Dad are afraid I wouldn't be properly fed and housed on a farm."

What ignorance! The good farm homes of Canada excel the best city homes in the quality of the food and in the excellence of the personal care given the household. Canadian city parents who do not know that their sons would be improved vastly, physically and mentally, by a summer of outdoor work, fresh, superlatively-cooked foods, and sound sleep, are not aware of how best to complete the education of their children.

The greatest lack in the development of Canadian youth is the simple discipline of work with nature. Any Canadian city family that does not know personally a half-dozen fine farm families, in whose homes the food and personal care is equal to or better than in their own, should get out in the country and get acquainted.

The growing gap in understanding between the farm and city people of Canada is the basic cause of the economic inequities which are resulting in an abnormal reduction in farm population, and the less-than-potential production of food in a world which food alone can save. — The Scene, From Shingwauk Farm.

Businessmen Discount Fears Of Depression

WASHINGTON.—Two United States business leaders discounted fears of a new inflationary spree, and told Congress that Americans have reason to look to the future with confidence.

Here is what they testified before the joint congressional committee on the economic report:

George M. Humphrey, Pittsburgh, head of the world's largest commercial coal company who helped negotiate the new contract with John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers.

"The new coal wage contract will do more to stabilize the economy and retard inflation than settlement of any controversy in the industry in several years." He said he thinks it will not affect wages in other industries.

Earl Bunting, president of the National Association of Manufacturers.

"Prices are high, as compared to pre-war, but the increase has been less than the rise of wages during the last four months. The price level has definitely flattened out."

A third witness, Robert E. Wood, board chairman of Sears, Roebuck and Co., added this assuring view of the economic outlook:

"I have never believed that any depression was in store for us in 1947 and I doubt whether it will come in 1948."

Wood said the United States should stop most of its assistance to Europe "because Western Europe is to a large extent finished." He said no amount of money can restore its economy to its former condition.

CARE OF SHOES

Don't store leather shoes or leather or rubber overalls in a hot attic, as heat will rot rubber and weaken leather. Put them in a cool, dry place, and clean them thoroughly before storing. Mud left on shoes will make a permanent stain on the leather.

HOLIDAY...

"Yes, that's right! We're having a really grand holiday... and I'm carrying hardly any money with me! Instead I use Traveller's Cheques, which I bought from the bank... cashing them in a jiffy along the way at railway offices, hotels, gas stations, large stores and so on. If they are lost or stolen I get my money back."

"It's a great feeling to know I'm protected like this... gives me peace of mind and helps me relax and have a more enjoyable trip!"

Your bank is constantly issuing Travellers' Cheques, Letters of Credit, Money Orders, Bank Drafts. Other convenient services are also available to you.

LOYALTY

If you work for a man, in heaven's name work for him. If he pays you wages which supply your bread and butter, work for him—speak well of him—stand by him and stand by the institution he represents. If paid to a pinch, an ounce of loyalty is worth a pound of cleverness.

If you must vilify, condemn and eternally disparage—resign your position, and when outside damn to your heart's content—but as long as you are a part of an institution do not condemn it. If you do so, then you are loosening the tendrils that are holding you to the institution and at the first high wind that comes along you will be uprooted and blown away and probably will never know the reason why.

ON TO HEALTH

"If we simply sit down on the sands of life, we must expect to be caught on the incoming tide of time," say Canadian medical leaders in urging a positive approach of attainment of health.

To secure and maintain health, constant effort is necessary, for, say the doctors, if we do nothing, disease and decay will overtake us.
